and your representations of Warrior that basically told you Warrior was difficult to work with. We talked about

- the Jakks people, for example, and the NAXCOM people.
- Are there any other instances that you can recall
- 5 discussing with any other individuals, in a business
- 6 sense, that Warrior was difficult to work with?

7 A. Yes. Yes. In my opinion, the key thing

8 that prohibited Warrior from having a comeback either 9 with New Japan Pro Wrestling or Total Nonstop Action

10 Wrestling was the fact that -- well, I remember Dave

11 Marquez with New Japan and Jerry Jarrett with TNA said

12 that the reputation that Warrior has for being

13 extraordinarily difficult to work with and things of 14 that nature is the prime reason that we can't offer him

15 the kind of money that he wants to come back.

Jerry Jarrett in particular said it's not that I don't understand that Warrior has a huge amount of Q value and would have even more so if he came back.

19 It's ---

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

- Q. Can I stop you there real quick?
- 21 A. Absolutely.
- 22 Now, the jury may not understand -- and you used the word "Q value" a lot today, and I think I have 24 a good understanding of what that is, but could you 25 explain to the jury what you mean when you say Q value?

1 And, again, I apologize for getting you off your train of thought, but --Q value would be kind of just star power.

That would be, you know, kind of maybe industry -- or entertainment-industry lingo for star power. How much of a draw that someone would be in terms of generating

6 7 excitement, raising television ratings, raising

8 pay-per-view buy rates, and be giving a boost in

9 merchandising sales, that would be your Q value, how

10 much you as a character bring to an organization, how 11 much they're likely to benefit from you.

Okay. And now get back to where you were talking about. You were talking about Jerry Jarrett and his interactions with Warrior coming back to TNA, If you'd just continue. And if you need the court reporter to let you know where you left off, we can do that, too. No. Jerry said it's not that we don't know Warrior has Q value, probably more Q value than anyone on the roster at that point in time, but the truth is -and I remember he said very specifically, made this point very specifically, we can't afford to pay him the

22 kind -- he said that it's not that we can't afford to

23 pay him the money he wants. It's that we can't afford

24 to pay him the kind of money he wants and risk that he'll hold us up for more money at Slammiversary.

Page 159

1 I remember Jerry used Slammiversary --

2 which is kind of TNA's version of WrestleMania. It's their annual big wrestling event. He said we could not take the risk that Warrior would show up the night before Slammiversary and try to hold us up the way he did Vince in order to get more money and tank the show.

7 We can't take that kind of financial risk.

He said so we can pay him a decent amount of money to come on board, and after three or six months of producing and showing that, you know, he's not going to hold us up, he's not going to be a terrible pain to work with, then we can come back and renegotiate a long-term contract that would pay him more along the lines of what he expects.

So Jerry Jarrett, who, for the jury, we've Q. seen him today in some video, he's a fellow wrestling promoter, was throughout history, he's a pretty well respected promoter and obviously works with Total Nonstop Action, TNA, which you've discussed a few times today already, Jerry Jarrett expressed to you that he was concerned that he would be held up for money, much like Vince McMahon was. So, actually, Jerry Jarrett confirmed the hold-up story that Warrior had - I just lost my train of thought. I apologize. Strike that from the record.

1 So, basically, Jerry Jarrett, who is a > fellow promoter in the business, confirmed the hold up of Vince McMahon's story and was also concerned that

Warrior had not changed, and that given the same

5 circumstances, he may find himself in the position where

6 Warrior was refusing to go onstage or unwilling to go 7

out and perform a show unless he got more money?

8 Well, let me be clear. Jerry didn't 9 represent that he knew for a fact that the hold-up story 10 was true.

Q. Okay.

12 A. But he did say -- he believed it to be 13 true.

14 Q. And these -- strike that from the record. 15 It's been a long day.

Your Interactions with Jerry Jarrett regarding Warrior's participation in Total Nonstop Action Wrestling occurred prior to WWE's release of the "Self-Destruction" DVD. Correct?

> A. Yes. Yes.

Q. So any belief that Jerry Jarrett had that Warrior had held Vince McMahon up for money would have been prior to the release of the "Self-Destruction" DVD?

> A. Yes, it would have been.

Q. DId Warrior ever discuss with you his
